

Don't forget: Get the perfect Advent calendar now

GEDORE red gets professionals and tool fans in the mood for Christmas

Remscheid, 27.10.2022 – There isn't much time left for choosing the right Advent calendar to set the mood for Christmas. So once again this year, GEDORE red is offering professionals and DIYers the perfect alternative to chocolate calendars and the rest: 42 individual items behind 24 doors make up a practical socket wrench set with accessories that are only available in this combination in the new GEDORE red Advent calendar. The perfect gift to make any professional's or DIYer's heart beat faster during the run-up to Christmas.

Together, the components in the Advent calendar make up a socket wrench set with a fine-toothed reversible ratchet, various different 6-edge socket inserts, bits, bit adaptors, a socket extension and additional precision screwdrivers in the customary GEDORE red quality. The individual items all have their permanent homes in the strong, compact black-and-red case with a solid metal lock, which is also hidden behind one of the doors.

If the calendar is to be given away, the outer sleeve with information on the contents can easily be removed. The calendar is neutral on the back with a field for a message, so the contents remain a surprise until the very last door is opened.
